Introduction

This bibliography is a guide to fiction bestsellers of the twentieth century. All books listed are available on disc or cassette or in braille in the collection of the National Library Service for the Blind and Physically Handicapped (NLS).

Hundreds of books appear on bestseller lists each year, and many of these are produced by NLS. Books in this bibliography are among the ten most popular for each year. Also included are books that have sold more than 2 million total copies over the years. Sources for the bestseller lists are 80 Years of Best Sellers: 1895-1975 by Alice Payne Hackett and James Henry Burke, The Bowker Annual of Library and Trade Information, twenty-second and twenty-third editions, for the 1976 and 1977 lists, and Publishers Weekly for 1978 titles.

Bestsellers over the century reflect trends, major events, and social and political movements, as well as providing entertainment. Several books sparked by World War II include James Jones's From Here to Eternity and Herman Wouk's War and Remembrance. Among books exploring the unique cultural experiences of ethnic groups are Herzog by Saul Bellow,

A Tree Grows in Brooklyn by Betty Smith, and The Godfather by Mario Puzo. Thornton Wilder's The Eighth Day delineates life in a midwestern town torn by a dramatic court trial; Lloyd C. Douglas's Magnificent Obsession concerns religious beliefs; Ship of Fools by Katherine Anne Porter portrays the sea of human foibles and folly. Gone with the Wind gave impetus to a revival of historical fiction. Roots and The Amityville Horror are examples of fiction based on fact.

Bestsellers is available in large-print, braille, and disc formats. The large-print edition contains more than 300 titles on disc or cassette or in braille, and lists bibliographies available on other subjects. The disc edition lists only recorded materials, and the braille edition lists only braille.

Each book in this bibliography is described briefly. Books are listed by decade and arranged within each decade alphabetically by author. To locate books, use the table of contents or refer to the alphabetical author-title index. Books in both sections are listed by media.

To order books, fill out the order form at the back of the bibliography and send it to your library. Book numbers are listed numerically by media.

About the Free Reading Program

The National Library Service for the Blind and Physically Handicapped (NLS) loans books and magazines to individuals who have problems reading because of a visual or physical limitation, temporary or permanent.

Books, playback equipment, headphones, and other aids are delivered by mail. Book descriptions, catalogs, and bibliographies such as this one are also mailed regularly to inform readers of new materials available.

No postage is required to borrow or return books, equipment, and other materials, and all materials are free.

Thousands of books on discs, cassettes, and in braille are available through a network of cooperating libraries. Fiction and nonfiction selections include classics, romances, science fiction, biographies, gothic novels, how-to books, and many more. Popular magazines are converted into discs, cassettes, and braille, and mailed to subscribers from producers. Music services are provided directly from NLS.

Eligibility for the program is determined by the inability to see well enough to read a conventional print book or to hold a book and turn pages. Individuals wishing service need a brief statement describing their disability from a competent authority such as a medical doctor, nurse, optometrist, ophthalmologist, staff member of a health care institution, or a librarian.

For specific eligibility requirements and more information, write to the National Library Service for the Blind and Physically Handicapped, Library of Congress, Washington, D.C. 20542.
